

The San as an Apex African Culture.

Seeing the San culture as an apex one, is based on, Living on edge in love, Ubuntu and harmony. To view San ways at the bottom of evolution is only a viewpoint. To live on the edge in love and oneness is an Apex Culture in terms of 1: Love unconditional . The San are the finest example of unconditional love of any tribe in Southern Africa if not the world or at least on par. Unconditional love is non judgment. When have you ever heard of San armies swooping down on anyone ? Or trying to dominate their environment ?

You haven't have you ?

Instead we will find the culture with the biggest heart and connectedness that live in joy and peace. Being on the edge is a wonderful way to evoke your spirit in action and know the oneness of "All that is"

San ways are from the heart for it is in the heart we find oneness. In the head we find polarity. Even today the tiny fragment of people left hanker for the life that is lived from the heart in sovereignty and freedom. If they were not killed, would die cut off from their heart and their sovereignty.

San ways are not the white mans ways. It is the opposite end of the scale and therefore an Apex culture.

This view of San ways from the heart will revitalize Africans to have more faith in themselves, as seeing themselves as a heart culture is very strengthening to self esteem. San-Africans are a heart based culture thrust in a Head culture. Western culture. A Heart culture is a mighty culture indeed. This is the time to change things back into Ubuntu heart ways. In seeing San Culture in this light you can go from Apartheid victim. To being a survivor of a cultural onslaught second to none and living from the heart the most precious culture of the lot. Also San culture is Apex in terms of equality with man and woman.

Is it not high time for Africans to see themselves with San eyes and not a European ones. Implementing San ideas and love as ideals, while restoring the San people to a viable environment will also uplift and boost the African people as well.

May the San be known as the tip of the spear of African culture , the cutting edge an Apex.

The finest heart culture known to man.

May the Earth be restored and vitalized by the African people themselves.

Only heart people are capable of this act.

Through the heart, Ubuntu and Unity are known not the head.

Anyone who lives as a San is a hardcore Zen cutting edge being , living "There is only the One" and also in the "Here and now". Open your hearts people and be Africans. Why would you not choose that ?

Unconditional love. Sovereign, free, Spiritual, Equality, Non judgment, Observer, Cooperative Fun Ubuntu.

The tree analogy of African culture.

Let us look at African culture as a mighty tree.

The roots. Tap root is Love and Ubuntu. African God , land , faith, sovereignty and African Law, African medicine. Education

Branches of cooperation , harmony , joy , humility , etc

How much more can African culture bear.

Are Africans becoming more or less loving ?

Are less people heading to the tavern ?

Are less woman visiting the delivery room ?

Is theft decreasing ?

The assault of the Christians on African beliefs is relentless and pervasive.

What will happen if Africans fall for the lies and ways of the Christians.

The land is owned or controlled by the state.

What would happen if the state used the land as security to the Reserve bank for funds ?

What will happen when Africans are forced to pay tax on their land ?

How can you even think you are Africans if you fall under colonial law ?

How can a christian be an African ?

Where is Morena Mohlomi / Morena Moeshoeshe ?

Can Africans survive TV ?

What will it take for Africans to want to be Africans under their own God, Law, Land and income on their assets. Living as Sovereign beings ?

How can you attract people to these ways ?

How do you live them ?

Final question !

How will African Culture survive having their God, land, education, law, medicine in decline ?????

African Law: Can an African live without it ?

Before the arrival of the white man what was the state of affairs ?

Did Africans have jails ?

Is punishment the norm or restitution and rehabilitation ?

Did it favor the rich ?

Is it a tool of domination ?

Is it a person vs a person system ?

What is it today ?

Can you have freedom with African law ?

Is it based on damages ?

Is African law from the heart ?

European law: Can an African live under it ?

Is Colonial law in favor of Africans ?
Is it a tool of domination and control ?
Can the poor get justice ?
Is it free ?
Is it fair ?
The state vs a person ?
Can you have freedom with state law ?
Is it punitive ?
Is state law from the heart ?
Is not our default state in this system “Enemy of the state” ?

An example.

A law was past in the 1700's putting a bounty on the San people, thus legalizing the slaughter of the San of Southern Africa. Just because they could not be controlled or tamed.

This could not have happened in a traditional African court. Because the African court is an instrument of Justice not control. African culture is based on love and harmony and so is its law. While State law “White mans law” is based on domination and control. There are many examples of injustice and control in state law. To many to ignore.

How do or can African people live under this system of domination and control, which anti Ubuntu and anti African ? Through this law, Africans have been abused, persecuted and slaughtered. Jails come with a justice system based on control and punishment.

In 1977 when Steve Biko was murdered he was the 20th person in 18 months to have suffered this fate according to the Rand Daily Mail. How many people are dying or been raped in prison today ? 20 and hour or a day or a week ?

Are the Police acting in an African Ubuntu way today ? And why ?
Can African culture exist or flourish without its system of law ?
What are we going to do about it ?

It boils down to this in my view to an African and Colonial system. At this time there is no African system for Justice. Until the Ubuntu African court is ruling court, Africans will not get justice. When the African Ubuntu court is the highest in the land the heart will beat stronger as the African way is love and where love reigns restitution and rehabilitation are the norm. Africans open your hearts and be unity conscious as your San-African self. Do open your hearts and be African in principle and nature.

Setup an Ubuntu court that is transparent, free, that anyone can be heard in.
